

STANDARD SUPERVISION

Standard probation supervision focuses on holding probationers accountable to their Conditions of Probation, with supervision geared towards addressing overall risk to re-offend and needs. Individual risk and needs are determined by using standardized evidence-based assessment tools. The result of the assessment determines the level of supervision as well as any needs to address in order to help lower the overall risk of the probationer to re-offend. Appropriate referrals to internal and/or community programs assist in addressing the needs of probationers to help facilitate long-term behavioral changes and promote community safety.
